

Chad Fulton

Contact Information

Prices and Wages
Research and Statistics
Federal Reserve Board of Governors
Washington, DC 20551

Website: <http://www.chadfulton.com/>
Email: chad.t.fulton@frb.gov

Research interests Rational inattention and bounded rationality, price-setting behavior, multi-sector / network effects, monetary economics, macroeconomics, applied econometrics

Education University of Oregon, Eugene, OR

Ph.D., Economics, June 2016

Dissertation Sectoral prices and price-setting

Committee George Evans (Co-chair), Bruce McGough (Co-chair), and Jeremy Piger

M.S., Economics, December 2012

B.A., Economics, June 2009

Research Papers Optimal Prices in Multisector Models under Rational Inattention
(Job Market Paper)

Understanding heterogeneous inflation dynamics with unobserved components

Comparing approaches for the estimation of dynamic factor models

Estimating time series models by state space methods in Python: DismalPy

Teaching Independent Instructor

Experience

Fall, 2015 Money and Banking
Spring, 2015 Introduction to Economic Analysis: Macroeconomics
Fall, 2014 Intermediate Macroeconomic Theory
Summer, 2014 Introduction to Econometrics
Fall, 2013 Intermediate Macroeconomic Theory
Summer, 2013 Issues in Public Economics

Teaching Assistant

Introduction to Econometrics, Introduction to Economic Analysis: Macroeconomics,
Introduction to Economic Analysis: Microeconomics

Awards

2015 UO Economics PhD Research Paper Award
2015 UO Economics Kleinsorge Summer Research Fellowship
2011 UO Economics Kleinsorge First Year Fellowship
2011-2016 Graduate Teaching Fellow

Programming Languages Python, MATLAB, R, Stata, Mathematica